MC NEAL'S IDEA OF FAIRNESS

HOW REPUBLICAN FAIRNESS WORKED IN TERRITORIAL TIMES.

Guthrie, Okla., Oct. 21.—The fact that Joe McNeal, republican nominee for governor, has been dominated by corporations during all his business career has contributed more to the chagrin of the state republican committee than any other thing in this campaign. If the rank and file of the republican party believed as does McNeal, that the railroads ought to have a right of way in Oklahoma, the candidate would get a solid republican backing. But the rank and file of the republican party believes with Governor Stubbs of Kansas that the railroads are not entitled to trespassing rights.

McNeal says he would be fair to corporations. Before statehood the republican party, which dominated Oklahoma and doled out the millions of salaries to federal officeholders was fair to corporations and the report of Attorney General Cromwell, one of those republican officeholders, show that the republican party permitted the railroads to rob the people of $54,000,000.

Fairness, republican fairness, to the railroads before statehood permitted the roads to dump into Oklahoma all of their useless rolling stock—worn out, unpainted, dilapidated passenger and freight cars that an enlightened and choosing people of another section of the country would not stand for; permitted roadbeds that were little worked and over which trains dared not run over ten or fifteen miles an hour; waiting rooms, cold, dirty and dingy, in which whites and blacks mingled freely and waited for trains that never ran on time; freight rates that caused the people of Western Oklahoma to pay $9 a ton for coal shipped from McAlester that sold in Kansas City for $7 per ton; combinations of railroads and coal companies in restraint of trade that permitted the fixing of prices of coal to the consumer and the rates at which it should be hauled to the wholesaler and the retailer; discrimination in favor of certain communities and the fixing of unjust freight schedules on live stock farm products and all commodities; three-cent passenger fare—in fact absolute control of the situation where millions and millions of dollars were flowing into the coffers of the great railroad trust.

No people under the sun in a civilized community were ever before so unjustly treated as were the American citizens that inhabited the territories that comprise the new state. Yet everything that McNeal has done for the railroads and everything that he promises to do for them tends to restore to them the un-American liberties they enjoyed before statehood. Bleeding, weary, down-trodden republican Kansas is trying to extricate itself from republican fairness to railroads.

McNeal Not Progressive.

McNeal is branded as being too cowardly to become a progressive. His party in the nation is leaving its beaten paths as such men as Stubbs, Cummins, LaFollette and Beveridge are not afraid to say what they think about railroad domination and corporation reform. Practically every republican nominee for governor in the United States, except McNeal, stands for reform—the sort of reform that will take the nation from the blighting grasp of unholy corporations.

It requires the service of a man politically shrewd to successfully combat the army of political miscreants that sought from the day that statehood came until this hour to slander the police officials and blight its name throughout the nation. It took a Haskell to make the first administration successful and the people, regardless of political affiliations, know that the administration has been successful. The remarkable prosperity of the state has been attested by practically every republican newspaper and every republican business man in the state. On the stump in Sapulpa last spring C. G. Jones of Oklahoma City who

WHY CRUCE SENTIMENT GROWS

Purcell, Okla., Oct. 21.—There is a unanimity of sentiment for Lee Cruce in this part of the state. He stands for high ideals, and the character of his whole life has been such that the people have confidence in his integrity and his promises. They know him to be above double-dealing and false promises. He has no corruption taint and has the welfare of the whole people at heart. They know him to be a true christian gentleman and they know that he has backbone and determination. Not a man has ever said aught against his character. Not a man has ever sought to besmirch his reputation. Lee Cruce stands on a pedestal of honesty and integrity that is irreproachable. He is likened unto President Wilson of Princeton University, whose entrance into politics in New Jersey as the democratic nominee for governor had its inception in the man's desire to raise the standard of politics and the character of government. Great newspapers and great magazines of the East are printing biographies and photographs of Mr. Cruce and he is becoming known as one of the leading reformers of the nation.

People of this part of Oklahoma, be they republican, democrats or socialists, will stand by the clean man and forget party and past political alignments. They have caught the inspiration that is borne on the nationwide wave of reform. They stand for good government and good men. They are against negro-lovers, corporation tools and unholy politicians who are after anything, right or wrong, that will give them prestige with the corporation powers of the nation.

BEN HARRISON IS IMPROVING TEGELER IS GRANTED BAIL

Guthrie, Okla., Oct. 21.—D. P. Marum, of Woodward, democratic state committeeman of Woodward county, is in the city today. He reports that Ben Harrison, democratic candidate for secretary of state, who has been sick at Woodward for the past two or three weeks, is improving steadily now. He says Mr. Harrison was stricken with a severe malarial attack, in the course of which he has been a very sick man, his hearing sight both being seriously affected at times during his illness.

M., O. & G. to Enter Coal District.

Denison, Tex., Oct. 21.—That the Missouri, Oklahoma and Gulf Ry. will enter Lehigh and Coalgate, Ok., has been announced here, but so far as can be ascertained the exact route has not been settled in the minds of the officials. Both Coalgate and Lehigh are in the heart of a rich coal mining district. Large shipments of fuel for use by railroads are sent from those places. The St. Louis Southwestern system secures a large part of its fuel supply from that district. One theory that has gained currency and which seems plausible for acceptance as an indication of what the Missouri, Oklahoma and Gulf will do, is that a track arrangement has been or will be, made with the Oklahoma Central from Tupelo, Ok., to Lehigh, seventeen miles. It has been reported, too, that a joint track arrangement has been made with the Rock Island from Wapanucka, Ok., to Coalgate, eighteen miles. An extension to Okmulgee, Ok., is said to be planned.

Who's Going to Be Saved?

This will be discussed by the Brotherhood class at the Christian church at 9:45 Sunday morning. All men are invited to join in with this interesting class of men.

Oklahoma City, Oct. 21.—The last straw for which Judge am Harris, special prosecutor of Rudolph Tegeler, charged with the murder of James R. Meadows in this city, June 4, 1907, disappeared from the grasp of that lawyer Friday when Judge J. J. Carney held that the prisoner would be admitted upon bond in the sum of $25,000.

The ruling of the court came only after some spirited arguments by Judge Harris for the state and Moman Pruett and D. B. Welty for the defense. They were arguments that were characterized by Judge Carney as an over-exuberance of zeal and without influence in persuading the court in arrival at a correct interpretation of the law.

Judge Harris took occasion to criticize the acts of Attorney Welty during the progress of the trial, whereupon Attorney Welty in an ominous tone retold of a friendship of twenty years with Harris in open court that from this date their paths must lead in divergent directions.

The state's attorney replied that he was individually responsible and that twenty years in Oklahoma had not created a disposition in him to escape such responsibilities. He also said that his early training in Missouri tended largely to cause him to assume all that dangers amongst which his duties lead.

NEW TAX YIELDS $27,000,000.

Washington, Oct. 21.—With the exception of a few foreign corporations practically every company liable to tax under the newly enacted corporation tax law has paid its tax into the treasury for the year 1909.

The amount collected is about $27,000,000. This large sum makes the treasury's fiscal operations for the year ended June 30 last show up far better than otherwise would have been the case, but there is a string attached to this nest egg.

The government has the money, but doesn't know how long it may keep it. That depends upon the decision of the supreme court. A number of cases have been carried into that court questioning the constitutionality of the law imposing the tax. In all these cases the lower courts held the law unconstitutional.

Because one may differ from you in political opinion or on any subject does not mean that you and he should be personal enemies. It's a narrow, contracted brain that cannot accord to others that freedom of opinion reserved for himself.— Wapanucka Press.

"Them's our sentiments," Brother McGill, but we find many who are unwilling to accord to a newspaper the privilege they claim for themselves. We have many warm friends in the republican party and likewise some among the socialists. We have many others whose opinions on various subjects are radically different from our own. Of course we regret that they can't see things as we do, but that makes no difference in our personal friendship. Because we attack the principles of their party we do not cast any reflection on honesty of purpose of our friends who hold to the. However, we likewise claim the same consideration from them, although we do not often get it.

Harriman uttered a great truth when shortly before his death he said that no man ever became such a valuable member of society that his place could not be filled equally as well by some one else. He himself had built up the greatest railroad system in the world, but everything has moved along so smoothly since his death as during his life time.
Some men have the notion that upon their shoulders rests the welfare of the whole human race, but if they are permitted to return to earth after death, it must be an eye opener to them to see things going along as they did before they were born and see how little they are really missed.
About the time he gets the idea that he is the whole show, a rude awakening is in store for a man.

The papers published in the various cities where state institutions are located are all of one accord, either spontaneously or by suggestion, asking whether Uncle Joe Mc-Neal would be elected governor he would move that institution away from that particular town.—McAlester Capital.

And it will be noticed that Uncle Joe maintains a discreet silence about that as he does about what he favors and how he would conduct his administration if elected governor.

The Atoka Citizen-Democrat states that a few days ago an individual who did not like some reference made to him, had sent word that he was going to lick the editor. Very naturally the editor was not much disturbed, for he knows very well that that sort of fellow isn't very dangerous. It is not the fellow who talks on the streets about what he is going to do, but the quiet fellow who is sure of himself that we keep an eye out for.

The present editor of the News did not support Bill Murray in the primary, because we thought and still think Cruce is a better man for the office of governor. However, Bill has raised himself several notches in our estimation by his conduct since the primary. Of course he felt sore at his defeat. So would any other man, but he has not sulked in his tent as the republicans said he would. He is right on the firing line and bending all his energy to make the victory a big one.

The advocates of the proposed saloon amendment to the constitution declare that they initiated it because prohibition has proved a failure.
However, the fact remains that the constitution had hardly gone into effect before Bill Caldwell and his crowd organized the "Sons of Washington" and began their preparations for another campaign. They did not wait to see whether it was going to prove a success or not.

the Hon. Mr. Parmenter a few days ago, the Are Republican says he "desected" the work of Haskell, Carter and other democrats. We really don't know whether he meant to say dissected or desecrated. Perhaps the latter expression is the more accurate.

Rev. Abe Mulkey, the noted Texas evangelist, is holding a meeting at Pauls Valley. It would be a good business proposition to have him come to Ada and preach his sermon on restriction while there is money in the country with which to make restitution on a lot of bad debts.

Somehow the republicans in counties where they are in the majority do not have much to say about voting for the best man, regardless of party, like they do where their chances are very slim like they are here in Pontotoc county.

THE OKLAHOMAN'S POSITION.

The Oklahoman has always been opposed to prohibition, and thinks the proposed amendment is perhaps better than prohibition as we have it, but is not altogether pleased with the bill as is shown by the following paragraph:

"It is regrettable in the extreme that the framers of the proposed constitutional amendment repealing the prohibition clause exercised so little wisdom and tact in the terms of the same as to leave many stout anti-prohibitionists in serious doubt as to whether they should vote for or against the measure. It is regrettable, we say, because the incorporation of so many palpably unfair features tends to eliminate the enthusiasm and energy essential to a successful campaign."

SHOULD DECEPTION BE AP- PROVED? JOE McNEAL FALSIFIED

In many of his public speeches throughout the state Joe W. McNeal, standpat republican candidate for governor, makes the statement that Judge Hook was a democrat and appointed to the judgeship by President Cleveland.

If Mr. McNeal does not know the truth concerning Judge Hook he certainly is not warranted in making a positive statement to deceive the people, but the fact is that Mr. McNeal is personally acquainted with Judge Hook as a citizen of Kansas, has personally known and been intimately associated with Judge Hook as bosom friends for many years.

Here is the truth, Judge Hook was first appointed United States district judge for the district of Kansas on the thirteenth day of February, eighteen hundred ninety-nine, appointment made by President McKinley. A record of this appointment can be found in the ninety-first federal court reporter at page XIX. Judge Hook was promoted from district judge to the position of circuit judge for this circuit in the year nineteen hundred three by President Roosevelt to succeed Judge Caldwell who resigned June forth, nineteen hundred three.
A record of this appointment will be found among the list of United States court judges in the one hundred twenty-second federal court reporter at page V.

These records can be found in many lawyers' offices throughout the state, so that it will be easy for any one who doubts our statement to turn to the record and find that what we say is the truth.

Voters of Oklahoma answer this question: Is Joe McNeal fit to hold office when he will deliberately undertake to deceive the voters in order to get their support? If you cannot believe the statements a mar-makes before his election could you trust him to protect the peoples' interest after he was elected?

DEMOCRATS ISSUE PICTOR- IAL CAMPAIGN BOOK

A novelty has been created and a new step in campaigning has been taken by John R. Williams, chairman of the Democratic Campaign Committee, in his "Men Whom You All Know," book, just off the press. Williams has been called "Master of the Art Political," and his campaign document almost justifies the name. It is filled with political lore of the very best kind.

Photos of every candidate for state office, and of the hold over officers, are shown in the publication. Also a short biographical sketch of each candidate and a likeness of Mr. Williams, W. R. Samuel, secretary of the committee and J. D. Lankford, treasurer.

Hon. Lee Cruce's photo appears on the outside cover, underneath of which is his now famous "Sunshine and Prosperity" motto. At the top of the page, and above the photo are the words "Men Whom You All Know," and directly underneath this "Democratic Nominees for State Office; Democratic Rule is a Golden Rule for Oklahoma."

On the fly leaf or preface page is an extract from one of Mr. Cruce's speeches in which he urges the clean men, the good men to take advantage of their citizenship and vote, which ends as follows: "Politics will never be made purer and cleaner by unclean voters, but an honest citizenship, constantly and diligently asserting itself will give us clean politics and clean politicians."

On the last, the 8th page, the democratic emblem, a lustily crowing rooster is shown, and Mr. Cruce's tribute to Oklahoma is given.

Mr. Cruce's speech appears in the publication. No two pages of reading matter run together, the book having been arranged so that photos of candidates alternate with reading matter.

The publication is a souvenir which friends of the democratic nominees will keep. It is new as a campaign idea, is novel in its make up, is bright, catchy and shows Williams and the men whom he has drawn around him as advisers, to be wide awake practical business men.

The book came off the press yesterday, but headquarters is sending them out by the thousands, as it is the desire to get them in the hands of the voters, in order that they may become acquainted with the men who will in the greatest probability handle the reins of government in Oklahoma during the next four years.

A copy of the book can be secured

How to Cultivate Tact.

Indianapolis News.

It is generally conceded that tact is a quality which serves us well at all times and in all circumstances.
Yet, while all regard it as a thing to be desired, many fail to recognize that it may be consciously cultivated. If we analyze tact we find that it is made up of certain elements.

A sympathetic knowledge of human nature, its fears, weaknesses, expectations and inclinations.

The ability to put yourself in the other person's place and to consider the matter as it appears to him.

The magnanimity to deny expression to such of your thoughts as might unnecessarily offend another.

The ability to perceive quickly what is the expedient thing and the willingness to make the necessary concessions.

The recognition that there are millions of different human opinions, of which your own is but one.

A spirit of unfeigned kindness such as makes even an enemy a debtor to your innate good will.

A patience that supplants accusation with the opportunity for self-discovery.

A recognition of what is customary in the circumstances and a gracious acceptance of the situation.

Gentleness, cheerfulness and sincerity—and such variations as the spirit of these may suggest.

CONGRESSMAN CARTER IN ADA

DELIVERS STRONG SPEECH ON ISSUES OF THE DAY.

Congressman C. D. Carter arrived this morning from Stonewall where he addressed a large audience last evening on the issues of the day, and at 2 o'clock this afternoon addressed a large crowd on the streets of Ada.

He was introduced by J. W. Davis, who in a few well chosen remarks presented the distinguished visitor. Mr. Carter first took up some of the state questions and paid his respects to Joe McNeal, who has been talking through his hat lately. In reference to the howl about democratic extravagance he quoted from a bulletin issued by the census bureau in which a statement of the cost of running nine state governments of this section was given. This showed that it cost $5.90 per capita to run the government of California, a republican state. It costs Kansas $2.55 per capita and Oklahoma $1.45. Reduced to actual figures the last fiscal year cost Kansas $3,667,000 to maintain its state government and Oklahoma $1,980,000. He called attention, also, to the fact that without a vote of the people the tax rate of no community can be above a very reasonable figure. Then it follows that the people have only themselves to blame if they have a heavy tax rate. In a discussion with Joe McNeal at McAlester a few days ago he called that gentleman to time for being the official bandsman for the railroads in their litigation with the state. McNeal said he could see no particular harm in that, and declared that Cruce had been guilty of the same offense. Carter challenged the statement and called on him to name the road. Of course he couldn't do it for Cruce had never affixed his name to any such document. Mr. Carter said he has been neighbor to Cruce for twenty years and could say of his own knowledge that there was nothing in any such talk.

He then took up national issues, paying special attention to the tariff and paying his respects to the Payne-Aldrich law, giving a brief outline of the methods of Joe Cannon in packing the Ways and Means committee and the manner of conducting hearings while the bill was in preparation. Among the many jokers found the bill since it became a law is one that permits the sugar trust to levy a tribute of $22,000,000 per annum on the American people. This, too, is only a sample of other hidden snares in the bill, the consumer getting the worst of it every time.

The crowd that heard Mr. Carter gave him close attention throughout, and he made a most favorable impression. Pontotoc county has always been a Carter stronghold, and this speech made it stronger than ever.

Judge C. O. Barton, County Judge.

Our present county judge, the Hon. C. O. Barton, is another man who has been a citizen of Ada almost from the beginning. He is likewise one who has been identified with every movement looking to the upbuilding of the town and county and also to the advancement of the democratic party. He was no stranger to official life when he was appointed to fill out the unexpired term of Judge Terrell, for he was the first county judge of Collingsworth, Tex., and since coming to Ada served as alderman for two terms and a term as mayor just prior to statehood, when the mayor presided over a court which heard many matters both civil and criminal. The writer attended many meetings of the council while Judge Barton was mayor and we know from our own observation that he filled the office with credit. It was during that term that he first came in contact with the boy problem, and although there was no specific law for it, he handled the cases of that character along the lines now mapped out by the statutes of Oklahoma. He is still giving attention to that line of work.

Since assuming the duties of county judge, he has kept things moving about his court. By forcing attorneys, witnesses and jurymen to be on time and standing for an unnecessary delay, he has already done much to reduce the expense of holding court.

The republicans will have a hard time raking up anything upon which to make a fight on his election in November.

On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. W. N. Mays was hostess to the Five Hundred Club and a number of her friends complimentary to Mrs. Chas. Frierson who has recently returned from Mississippi.

The entertainment was a delightful one and heartily enjoyed by all present.

Sorosis.

The Department of Literature held such an interesting session on Friday afternoon. The lesson was Act 1, Scene 1, from "As You Like It."

Miss Johnson, as leader, proved to the members that she had given the whole play much thought, also, having seen the play given, (with Julia Marlowe as Rosalind) was able to enrich her talk, with her own interesting ideas of the different characters. Miss McKay, and Miss Sadie Edmiston, two of the new members, were present, and given a hearty welcome. At a late hour the club adjourned, to meet Nov. 4th.

The Misses Wingo Entertain.

Misses Fannie, Lillian and Moss Wingo entertained Friday evening in honor of Miss Stephens of Ladonia, Tex., the ever popular game of "42" being enjoyed until a late hour when most delicious refreshments were served. After refreshments had been served Mrs. Manville and Misses Van Wermer, Wingo and Lane each rendered a beautiful musical selection. FRISCO ENGINEER

EASY WINNER

Some three months ago, Carl Morris, an engineer on the Frisco who is well known at Ada left the road and went into training with the avowed intention of meeting Jack Johnson in the prize ring and snatching the laurels won at Reno from the dusky brow. Yesterday evening he met Ed Anderson, a fighter of some note at Tulsa and in a five round bout was an easy winner. The Tulsa World says that 1,100 people witnessed the scrap.

From some of the Frisco men we learn that thirty-six railroad men from Francis went up to see the fun.

Place in Hall of Fame for Poe.

New York, Oct. 20.—At last the long fight to have the name of Edgar Allen Poe, poet and author, placed in the Hall of Fame seems assured of success. The last of the ballots from the ninety-six electors have been received at the New York university, and Prof. John T. McCracken, acting head of the university, said today that Poe's election was practically a certainty.

"No man can say positively until the ballots have been officially canvassed Friday afternoon just what the result of the election will be, but there is no doubt in my mind that the author of 'The Raven' will have his memory preserved by a niche in the hall," he said. "I base my statement on the apparent success of the campaign in Poe's behalf in the last five years."

"I believe enough new members have been elected to vote Poe a place, even had none of the authors changed their opinions in regard to the matter."

Professor McCracken said that he always had stood in favor of enrolling the poet's name in the hall. At the 1900 election Poe received thirty-eight votes. Five years later his name drew forty votes. The supporters of the campaign in his behalf feel assured that this year's balloting will give the necessary fifty-one votes. One of the strongest rivals of Poe in the balloting has been Roger Williams, according to the announcement made from the university today.

Thomas Nelson Page and other writers have been using their pens to have the hall electors decide in favor of Poe, and a number of social and industrial organizations have been conducting active campaigns in support of the cause.

NEW MEXICO WANTS A SLICE OF TEXAS

Santa Fe, N. M., Oct. 21.—The committee of boundary of the New Mexico constitutional convention today decided to report that the 103rd meridian is the true historical boundary between New Mexico and Texas. This would give New Mexico 200 square miles now a part of Texas.

The 103rd meridian is along the eastern boundary line at present of New Mexico and thus the western line of the great Texas Panhandle.

The committee on legislation today adopted a modified referendum proposition through which a law passed by a legislature may within a certain time be submitted to voters at the following general election upon the petition of 10 to 25 per cent of the qualified voters in every judicial district.

The committee on judiciary decided in favor of an appointive supreme court of three judges to serve twelve years at $7,500 a year.

Bob Taylor of Tennessee.

From the two following clippings from the Nashville, Tennesseean it would seem that Bob Taylor is not as much admired as he once was. The first runs as follows:

Catgut Bob, Wobbly Bob, Our Bob, Nabob, Their Bob, Anybody's Bob, Fiddling Bob of Happy Hollow, Ham's Bob, Bob, the Jail Deliverer, Jestin Bob, Clowning Bob, Pardoning Bob—what next?

Here is the other:

With a harmonicon in his mouth, an olive branch in one hand and a bowie knife in the other, Patterson's Bob goes forth to battle. Some he waves into submission with his olive branch; others he lulls to sleep with his harmonicon; while those that will not be lulls with his bowie knife. Patterson's Bob has a duty to perform, and he is trying his darndest to perform it.

The Japanese Way.

New Orleans Picayune: Some idea of how Japan will gradually but thoroughly reform affairs in Korea, making that ancient empire as thoroughly Japanese as any other portion of the Mikado's dominions, can be had from a study of what that indefatigable race of little men has accomplished in Formosa, the island that was ceded to Japan by China at the close of the war between the two countries in 1894.

Formosa, which is near the south coast of China, is not as large an island as Cuba, but it has over 4,000,000 inhabitants. The coast and low country is inhabited mainly by Chinese but the mountainous interior is held by savage aborigines, who have not yet been subdued. Under Japanese rule the cultivated land of the island has been made to yield abundant crops, and large amounts of camphor are annually exported. The towns have been greatly improved, good ports created and railroads built. To prevent the incursions of the savage mountaineers into the cultivated areas, the Japanese have for some time maintained a strong guard around the district inhabited by the wild tribes; and they are mercilessly shot if they attempt to rush the cordon that is maintained.

Having completely pacified and reconstructed the cultivated and civilized portion of the island, the Japanese have now turned their attention to exterminating or subduing the wild aborigines. A great wire fence has been built around their mountain fastness, and this fence is kept constantly charged with a deadly current of electricity. The inclosure is being gradually narrow section by section, and the savages caught in the process are disarmed and gathered into reservations. When the process is complete the wild tribes will be either driven into the sea or completely subdued.

The thorough effective method being employed in Formosa is typically Japanese, and it clearly foreshadows what will be done in Korea, although conditions in the last named country that do not bow to the inevitable are certain to be utterly crushed out.

Postal Banks to Start January 1.

Washington, Oct. 21.—The postal savings banks will not be opened, even by way of experiment, before Jan. 1, according to a statement made by Postmaster General Hitchcock of the News correspondent today.

"We are going ahead getting everything ready, and will have the first fifty postmaster bankers come to Washington for personal instructions," said Mr. Hitchcock, "but we will not accept deposits before the first day of January. We could open the banks for business by Dec. 1, but we would rather begin the financial record with the first day of the year, hence the delay to Jan. 1."

The postal bank details are discussed at today's cabinet meeting, and tomorrow afternoon the trustees of the postal bank system will meet to designate the first fifty cities in which these banks are to be started as an experiment. Postmaster General Hitchcock has selected one city in each state, Territory and district, which he expects to make public tomorrow.

A hardware store was broken into at Seminole last week and a large number of guns and pocket knives stolen. The parties who committed the burglary came to Holdenville the same night and retraced their route, going back toward Seminole. On the westbound local, which passed Lima about nightfall, they opened a scrap with the train crew and one was captured and landed in the Wewoka jail. Part of the stolen goods was found here.—Holdenville Democrat.
